Mr. Foster their reviewed the questions connected with the Sandorn rootmets, and criticised Mr. It their speech some months are in detence of the same. In regard to the Tre survoil take, he said that he could not overlook their carelessness and general loose management, and that their attempts to shift the responsibility from one to the other was discresitable to all of them. It was impossible to determine exterly where the responsibility for the malanministration of the law resied, but it reside somewhere in the Treasury Department. He did not intend to reflect on the integrity of the Secretary. In fact there was nothing to show that any Treasury official had had any corrupt connection with Schorn.

Mr. Hamin (Rep., No.)—I believe when the motion to adjourn over was made yesterday no reason was given.

The Chair—None whatever.

Mr. Hamin said he did not know by what power the Senator from Nebraska proposed to construct he motives of Senators in adjourning over.

Mr. Tipton said when he came to the Cantol this morning he found the House'n session. He denied that it was for the public interest to admit New Mexico as a State. What had the littled States to gain in that regard? On weat priciple of moral obligation had a population of 100,000 in any portion of the country a right to demand representation in the Senator of 100,000 in any portion of the country a right to demand representation in the Senators more proposed to the little states, and the senate was now far too great. Out of seventy four Senators, sixteen representation in the Senators is streen representation in the Senators is not the country a right to demand representation in the Senators is not provided that it was for the public interest to admit New Mexico as a State.
